

Data Processing Claims

This claim helps to protect establishments involved in computer processing and data preparation services. Data processing allows companies to outsource some or all of their data management. Data processing companies specialize in knowledge and technology. These companies have increased significantly due to new technologies and the introduction of the internet.

<http://www.patentstorm.us/patents/5740251/claims.html>