

Equine Services

You are passionate about horses. So are we. For nearly five decades, breeding, racing, boarding, hunter/jumper, dressage, recreational riders, training professionals, as well as others in the equine community have counted on Naden/Lean for superior service and unparalleled responsiveness to their needs. Our team of equine professionals constantly monitors IRS tax law changes and how they apply to the equine community.

Equine organizations and individuals that choose Naden/Lean do so because they know that we have taken the time to understand the unique challenges that face the horse community not only in Maryland, but nationally as well. By taking this industry expertise into account, we are better suited to offer strategies and suggestions tailored to your specific needs.

Whether you are purchasing your first share in a Thoroughbred or have a breeding operation with over two hundred horses, we can help guide your tax and accounting strategies.

Trust Naden/Lean

During our last peer-review (one of our membership requirements of the AICPA), we got a clean opinion with no letter of comments. This is significant. What this means for you is that you can be assured that whatever work we perform for you goes through a rigorous internal quality review before it reaches you. We pledge to never take your business for granted.
